Sorry, I can't talk right now.

Please call when you can - you are going to be interested in what we just found I think we have proven the value of what I refer to as entire premise testing with the plumbers - even though the data gathered does not always correlate to regulations our methods uncovered the issue today

Talked to Miguel. He's not aware of any faucet types that would use weights or counter weights. The only material he would expect to see would be solder (and that would be highly unlikely).
